ST. THOMAS AQUINAS COLLEGE HOSTS MBA INFO SESSION

(SPARKILL, NY, January 16, 2008) --St. Thomas Aquinas College will host an information session for individuals interested in the College's Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree program on Saturday, February 2 at 10 a.m. (snow date: 2/9/08 at 10 a.m.) on the College's main campus in Sparkill. For reservations or information, contact the Graduate Admissions Office of St. Thomas Aquinas at 845-398-4100 or e-mail admissions@stac.edu.

St. Thomas' MBA classes are offered on either Friday evening, Saturday morning, or Sunday morning - each class meeting for nine sessions. Occasionally a week night class is offered. The program provides students with the option of choosing among Finance, Marketing, Management or a self designed concentration. Students with prior undergraduate or graduate work can have up to 24 credits waived. Full-time students can complete the remaining 33 credits in one year, but the majority of the students are working professionals who pursue an MBA part-time.

"We pride ourselves on serving the needs of the full-time professional who wishes to continue his or her education on a part-time basis. The weekend program is ideal for individuals with business and travel commitments that prevent them from making a class during the traditional workweek," said Mr. Alan Colsey, Director of the MBA program.

Each quarter, up to nine new classes are offered for students to select from and new students may begin the program at the start of any quarterly session.
